LIBERAL RALLY IS HELD AT OAK BAY

MR. O'HALLORAN CHALLENGES CONSERVATIVE TO BETTER ROBB BUDGET

Mr. Turgeon Discusses Western Policy, and Condemns the National Policy

Instanting the reduction in taxation brought about by the Robb budget as a direct challenge to the Conservative party to do better with its high tariff policy, Mr. C. H. O'Halloran, Liberal candidate in the Nanaimo Federal riding, spoke at a rally meeting in the St. Mary's Hall last night, which was attended by some 200 people. Mr. O'Halloran was supported by Mr. J. O. Turgeon, of Vancouver, Provincial Liberal organizer. Mr. Percy James was chairman.

In dealing with the reduction in the tariff on automobiles, the speaker said that he had investigated the benefits as affecting this district. On Salt Spring Island, he said, there were 200 cars, all of the type which would be affected by the $200 reduction. "This makes a possible total reduction of $40,000 for that one island alone. Imagine what the saving of this money would mean to a community of that size," Mr. O'Halloran stated.

The candidate stressed the value of Old Age Pension and State Health Insurance legislation. He declared that the Old Age Pension bill was defeated by the Conservatives in the Senate, and he had spoken against the Conservatives in the House, and yet it was one of the most vital pieces of social legislation that had ever been introduced. He contended that the Liberal party was the only one that had done anything for returned soldiers, and that this was indicated in the legislation that had made appeals on soldiers' pensions easier, and in the Revaluation of Soldiers' Settlement Land bill, which had been defeated by the Conservatives.

Natural Resources Produce

Attacking Conservative assertions that Canada was exporting too many of her raw products to the United States, Mr. O'Halloran, by means of statistics, showed that Canada's net export of raw products was less than that of the United States. He said that in 1924 (thirty-eight per cent of United States exports were raw products. Eighteen per cent of this was field products. Canadian exports in the same year comprised forty-eight per cent raw products, and twenty per cent were field products, making export of other raw products far less than that of the United States.

Mr. O'Halloran outlined his policy of building up a Canadian navy, and said he would also fight for pensions for naval men. He urged upon his audience the necessity of supporting a government with a definite western policy.

The National Policy

Mr. Turgeon charged the Conservative party with trying to steal the Old Age Pension scheme as a political propaganda to further its cause. He reviewed the passage of the bill through Parliament and attempted to show how it had been opposed by Conservatives.

He contended that more young people of Canada left for the United States during the Conservative administration of Mr. John A. Macdonald's day, and during the years 1911 to 1921, than had during the past five years. He said that from 1911 to 1921, during Conservative administration, 750,000 people emigrated to the United States from Canada.

Speaking on the Liberal western policy, Mr. Turgeon endeavored to prove how the Conservative Government had sent Canadian business to the United States which should have come to Western Canada. He said that at the same time that the Conservative Government refused equalization of freight rates on grain to the Pacific seaboard, it announced an equalization of freight rates on wheat bound to United States ports on the Great Lakes and Atlantic seaboard. In 1911, the year before rates were equalized to the United States, 24,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat were shipped through Canadian ports and 21,000,000 bushels through American ports. Directly following the equalization of the freight rates, in 1912, only 8,000,000 bushels of wheat were shipped through Canadian ports while 54,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat passed through American ports. Part of the latter should have been business routed by the western route.

"The Conservatives did this in the face of their cry: 'No truck or trade with the Yankies,'" Mr. Turgeon asserted.

New Bandstand At Beacon Hill Park Proposed

BEACON Hill Park will have a new bandstand if a proposal that the City Parks Board will recommend to the City Council on Monday evening next is carried into effect. With the series of concerts this season in city parks by the Municipal Band concluded, the sum of $400 remains unexpended in the fund for band music. The Parks Committee considers the present bandstand in Beacon Hill Park too high from the ground to assure the patrons of the concerts there receiving the finest in band presentations, and suggests that this condition be remedied by the expenditure of the money in building a new stand.

Letters of appreciation will be forwarded by the City Parks Board to the Victoria Rotary Club and Mr. James M. Miller, bandmaster of the Municipal Band, thanking them for their generous co-operation in making the series of band entertainment this summer such a great success.

MINISTER LAUDS USE OF DRYDOCK

Opportunities for Trade

In his plea for the Meighen tariff policy, Dr. Toimie called attention to the fact that on the other side of the Pacific the people of the Orient were adopting a new way of living. They were taking to the idea that the white man used, with the result that there was a growing demand for Canadian wheat and other products. This meant a great deal for this country, and Victoria should have its share in the development which might be expected to follow such resultant changes.

On the old age pension question Dr. Toimie repeated the charge that the bill introduced by Mr. King was for the purpose of humbugging the public. It had taken him from 1921, when the principle of the old age pension scheme was approved by the House of Commons, until late in 1925 before he introduced it. Mr. King brought down the legislation in 1926 only because he feared an election was at hand.

That legislation went through the House of Commons without a division so that it was idle to say, as the Liberals did in their literature circulated through the city, that he had voted against the bill. Mr. Meighen was pledged to an old age pension measure, but it would be a workable bill, not a humbug.

Deals With Tariff

Dr. Toimie made a plea for a protective tariff as a means of making Canada prosperous. Placed alongside a country like the United States, which for a hundred years had been a protected country, it was essential that Canada should adopt a similar policy so as to make it possible to manufacture in this country and retain its population here.

Canada, with all kinds of raw material for making cement for the world, was allowing Japanese-made cement to come in here and compete with the locally-made product, while the cost of labor was so much higher. Mr. Meighen was pledged to a tariff commission representing industry and labor which would pass upon all questions relative to tariff changes, and which would not permit of any groups gaining an advantage. The idea was to give protection to Canadian industry.

There was nothing, the Liberals had tried to side-track as much as the Customs scandals. The exposure of the scandals had shocked the whole people of Canada. He referred to some of the outstanding revelations that had been made during the investigation before the Parliamentary committee.

Mr. Sparks and the Merchants' Protective Association conducted an investigation which cost them $20,000 of their own money.

It had been shown in the investigations that the business of the country had been interfered with to the amount of from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000.

It had been suggested that the Conservatives were just an bad as the Liberals in the matter of the Customs. Dr. Toimie said that he did not pretend that Conservatives as individuals were any better than the Liberals. But to the credit of the Conservatives, in spite of all attempts at side-tracking during the investigation, failed.

Asked Questions

On the conclusion of Dr. Toimie's address, some questions were submitted from one who had little to say to say of anything that favored of Conservatism. The questions asked for an opinion of actions of Hon. H. H. Stevens said that he did not pretend that Conservatives as individuals were any better than the Liberals. But to the credit of the Conservatives, in spite of all attempts at side-tracking during the investigation, failed.

One question requested the opinion of the speaker on whether Mr. King had not reduced the number of Japanese in the province, but reducing the number engaged in fishing.

Dr. Toimie said that his information was that as soon as these people were excluded from fishing they took to farming. On the farms a licence was not necessary. He added that the Conservatives in the House had endorsed the policy of exclusion of the Japanese, but Mr. King had substituted for this what he called adequate restriction which allowed them to come in.

Alderman H. Cuthbert Holmes took the ground that it would be a stupid thing to return to power a party whose actions had been condemned but a short time before by Parliament.

Major Holmes referred to the war and the evacuation which followed in the country in consequence of that. The Union Government could not correctly be blamed for the situation that resulted. The King Government could not take the credit for a return of a measure of prosperity.

Mr. Meighen's Policy

The appointment of a tariff commission had been the suggestion of Mr. Hon. Arthur Meighen. The King Government had seen its way clear to accept the suggestion and appoint a board. Mr. King, however, had not waited for the commission to afford a basis for the King Government to accept the suggestion and appoint a board. Mr. King, however, had not waited for the commission to afford a basis for the King Government to accept the suggestion and appoint a board.

ing company went to pay wages. In this way money was circulated, making for a prosperous country. He would encourage prosperity in the country rather than cutting this off.

He advised the election of the Conservative party which stood for honesty in the administration of the affairs of the country.

Mr. Lindley Crease, K.C., who presided at the meeting, in introducing the Minister, referred to the excellent record which Dr. Toimie had as a representative. He had been active in season and out of season, said Mr. Crease, in aiding his native country where his family resided, and where all his interests were located.

Mr. Crease said that there were many parts of Canada that would have liked to have cabinet representation. Dr. Toimie, however, had become such a national figure that he could not be passed over, and he was accordingly made Minister of Agriculture. Dr. Toimie, he said, had made a name for himself in the United States, and in the Old Land, where he had been instrumental in having removed what had for so long been "a thorn in our flesh," the embargo on cattle.

Victoria, he felt, would not do other than elect Dr. Toimie, who was known to all and who spoke as a man with authority. Mr. Crease added that they elect him with an increased majority over the last time, and show appreciation of the honor done to the citizens of Victoria as well as to the Minister himself.

part of her address of her tour of Canada, to which she came by special invitation of the Canadian Nursing Association to attend the unveiling at Ottawa of the memorial to Canadian nursing sisters who gave their lives while serving overseas during the war. She recalled some of the outstanding incidents in connection with her recent visit to Vancouver, where she attended some of the B.C. Hospital Association sessions and where also she was the guest of the Nursing Association. At a luncheon at St. Paul's Hospital, she had heard some fine speeches, among them one by an eminent doctor who had laid stress on the importance of considering the patient.

"Consideration of what is required in a hospital and a nurse's work often blinds us to consideration of that most important person, the patient," she said.

Should Be Proud

"It must be a matter of great pride to you that the nurses of Canada acquired themselves so splendidly in the war," she continued. More wonderful than anything else about the nurses who served overseas during the war was their utter lack of thought for themselves in moments of great danger. She had seen nurses after, perhaps, a stretch of eighteen hours' duty, instead of seeking rest or recreation, deliberately sitting down to write reassuring letters to their relatives or penning messages to mothers of wounded soldiers who had just come in with some of the ambulance trains. One incident was typical of their courage and self-forgetfulness: A nurse, hearing a bombing raid, returned to a ward where some very badly wounded men, fresh from the trenches, lay. She was killed, and the soldier by whose cot she sat, was saved.

"We should be justly proud of the great courage that women display in moments of great danger," she added.

Territorial Service

Dame McCarthy told something about the organization and use of the British Territorial Army Nursing Service, "an organization of women trained in peace time and who, with the consent of their employers, were prepared to receive the Territorial Army in time of national emergency."

The matron-in-chief has twenty-three matrons under her in charge of training schools throughout Great Britain. When she left London there were nearly 5,000 Territorial nurses enrolled, ready to be called up in case any incident connected with the service arose.

Means are taken to keep fully posted as to the whereabouts of these nurses, who have to fill out certain forms every year. A certain proportion of the nurses are regularly taken into military hospital training for short periods, under regular army nurses, and in the same capacity as they would fill in actual service. The advantage of this training was being more and more recognized, and the number of young nurses who now applied for enrollment immediately on completing their regular training was quite remarkable. It was a source of great pride that there were so many Territorial nurses, about 300 in number, still enrolled, to be found throughout the Empire. At the ceremony.

many of the unveiling of the memorial at Ottawa she had seen several of these nurses in English uniform.

"There is no doubt you have some admirable system of organizing your nurses in Canada, or we should not have had so many magnificent Canadian nurses serving with the forces all over the Empire during the war," said Dame McCarthy in reply to a question as to the advisability of instituting in this country some system similar to that in use in Britain.

PRESIDENT OF ASSEMBLY WILL RECEIVE GERMAN DELEGATION INTO LEAGUE

Sir George Foster Makes Speech on United States Reservations That Features Session

GENEVA, Sept. 10.—Great crowds last night welcomed the Germans back to Geneva and today, in this centre of international effort, the Reich of Germany will be formally installed as a member of the League of Nations.

President Nindlich of the Assembly of the League will welcome the Germans tomorrow morning, and Dr. Stresemann will reply. M. Briand of France also will welcome the Germans as a spokesman from the entire Assembly.

Outstanding feature of the meeting of the Assembly yesterday was the address of Sir G. E. Foster, of Canada, who declared that millions resident in the United States have a profound sympathy for the work of the League. Sir George declared that members of the League must have faith in the inherent virtues and power of the League and that if outside parties say "unless you do so and so we cannot come in with you," regard must first be had to the League's own purposes and its own ideal.

Member Thinks Liberal Will Lose Deposit on Tuesday

Mr. C. F. Davis, M.P., who is attending to Mr. Dickie's campaign in Cowichan-Newcastle, has been asked to fill engagements in the Islands constituency, in the absence of Col. C. W. Peck, M.P., who has gone to Prince Rupert to assist the Conservative candidate there. Mr. Davis spoke on Thursday night, with Capt. Matheson, at James Island, last night (Friday), at Ganges, in company with Senator R. E. Greth, and will take the platform with Mr. Dickie at a meeting to be held at Sidney tonight (Saturday).

Commenting upon the situation in the Nanaimo riding, Mr. Davis anticipates a majority for the Conservative candidate of not less than 4,000, with a possibility of over 5,000, and a very fair prospect of the Liberal candidate losing his deposit. Liberalism in Nanaimo and Newcastle is completely on the wane, he states, and, as for the rest of the riding, the Conservative predominance is easily two to one.

ESQUIMALT COURT HAS BUSY SESSION

Twelve Convictions, Net $90 in Fines—Penalty for Parking Violations Increased

One of the busiest sessions of the Esquimalt Police Court held for some time took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Esquimalt Municipal Hall, with Magistrate George Jay presiding. No fewer than eleven persons came before the court, two of whom were charged with two offences. Twelve convictions were recorded, and the sum of $90 collected in fines.

Two motorists were each fined $5 for parking their cars in the restricted area on Esquimalt Road. Previous offenders in this regard have only been penalized to the extent of $1, but Magistrate Jay said yesterday that sufficient warning had been given against the said parking, and that in future the fine of $5 would be inflicted on violators of the parking regulation.

It. M. Farmer appeared in court to face two charges. He was fined $25 or ten days in jail in default of payment for driving his automobile to the common danger, and was penalized to the extent of $5 or two days in jail for having no rear light on his automobile.

A double charge also awaited George D. Tyron, who was fined the sum of $15 or ten days in jail for driving to the common danger, and $5 for having no driver's license upon him while operating his car.

Fines of $5 were imposed on each of the following motorists for having no rear light on their cars: Louis B. Haine, J. Ferguson, H. Dear, H. A. C. Phillips and R. Deldarno. A similar charge was faced by William J. Luckovitch, a sailor, who pleaded not guilty to an indictment for violation of the court in warrant dismissal of the case against him. Colin Kitchner was fined $5 for riding his bicycle after dark without a front light.

Politician Says Victory in Nova Scotia Is Assured

Mr. Frank J. D. Barnum, member for Queen's in the Nova Scotia House of Assembly, telegraphs as follows to The Colonist:

"I have made a personal canvass, covering the territory from Nova Scotia to Ontario, and have reliable reports from the West. I have not the slightest hesitation in saying that the Conservative party will be returned to power with a substantial majority next Tuesday."

Barnum is widely known throughout Canada for the campaign he has carried on for some years past in favor of the conservation of the Dominion's forest resources for the use of Canadians.

VICTORIA ARTIST DELIGHTS KELOWNA

Mr. Gideon Hicks, Well-Known Baritone, Heard in Recital, Accompanied by His Daughter

The following, from The Kelowna Courier of September 2, is a glowing appreciation of a Victoria artist, Mr. Gideon Hicks:

"It is a matter of regret that more people did not make a stronger effort to attend the recital given on Monday evening by Mr. Gideon Hicks, of Victoria, in the United Church, thereby missing a rare opportunity of hearing a singer whose artistry is equal to his vocal gifts, and, without doubt, the best baritone ever heard in Kelowna."

"By nature endowed with a resonant, tuneful baritone voice, Mr. Hicks, by life-long study, has attained a perfect development, rich in tone with phenomenal range, coupled with a personality which wins instant favor with his audience."

"The programme was carefully arranged so as to display the artist's extraordinary versatile repertoire, ranging as it did from the dainty Italian melodies to the thunderous, forceful tones of operatic arias."

"An outstanding number on the programme was the aria from 'Elizah', 'It Is Enough.' In this item Mr. Hicks showed his mastery of the traditional rendering of oratorio, his sympathetic interpretation and wonderful tone-color being a source of delight and marvel to his audience. This piece brought forth a storm of applause which could not be quieted until the artist consented to give us an encore. 'Why Do the Nations So Furiously Rage Together?'

PLAYHOUSE Dolores Costello, in "The Little Irish Girl," now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, plays a girl crook identified with a slick band of confidence men. She is hard-boiled, cynical and disillusioned, until she meets a straight-forward, good-looking country boy, and then the famous Dolores Costello charm returns in full force, when romance leads her into an adventure full of amusing twists. John Haron is the country boy.

CAPITOL Richard Barthelmess, in "The Amateur Gentleman," now showing at the Capitol Theatre. He appears to splendid advantage in the colorful role of Barnabas Beverly Barry and looks amazingly well in the costumes of the Beau Brummel period. Dorothy Dunbar, who is considered a screen "find," is very beautiful as Lady Cleone Meredith, while an exceptional cast appears in support of Barthelmess.

DOMINION Nita Naldi's night-black THEATRE hair and her mysterious Oriental eyes have made her the vamp supreme. Her part in "Cobra," which is now showing at the Dominion Theatre, is probably the best of her entire career. She plays the cobra woman—the woman with the hypnotic fascination of the cobra. The role brought fame to Judith Anderson, who played it on the stage when Martin Brown's drama had its long Broadway run.

COLUMBIA Has anyone heard of a THEATRE horse receiving fan mail? Well, Tony Mix does! Tony is the finest horse in the world and is the property of Tom Mix, star of "My Own Pal," now at the Columbia Theatre. Beautiful Olive Borden is seen opposite the Western ace in his latest thriller. According to the secretary in the Mix offices in Hollywood, Tony gets all kinds of mail—it comes from all sections of the world.

COLISEUM "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway," at the Coliseum has enjoyed a record week's run and the final performance tonight should play to a capacity house. Containing a clever story, good scenery, splendid singing and a heavy chorus that is useful to the eye, the talented Coliseum Company take full advantage of the wonderful script with its modern musical setting, evidence of which is noticeable in the enthusiastic ovation given by the consistently large audiences who have witnessed this play.

DRUG SEIZURE MADE ON SHIP AT QUEBEC

British Authorities Had Cabled Ottawa Notice to Be on Watch When Alania Docked

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—Two cases containing a total of 150 pounds of morphine paste were seized by the Federal Department of Health, assisted by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, on the Ss. Alania at Quebec, Sunday last. It was announced this evening by officers of the Health Department.

Clue to Methods
The cases are thought to have been intended for China, and officials here believe they have come upon the methods which, as organizations in Europe and on this continent fighting the drug traffic have suspected for some time, have been employed to smuggle drugs into China.

The British Government seized four cases similar to those seized Sunday and suspected that there were more cases in the consignment en route to China. Accordingly that Government cabled the Canadian Government to be on the watch when the Alania docked.

CITY'S ACTION TO OPEN MONDAY NEXT

Victoria Endeavors to Prevent Mr. P. W. Bell From Rescuing City-Westholme Co. Dispute

The action of the City of Victoria for a declaration that Mr. Peter Warren Westholme Bell, independent engineer in the controversy which has three times been on a circuit of British Columbia courts and once to the Privy Council, will open on Monday morning at 11 o'clock, before Mr. Justice Murphy, in the Supreme Court here.

Mr. Bell recently served the city notice of his intention to proceed with an inquiry into matters arising out of the contract between the Corporation of the City of Victoria and the Westholme Lumber Company for the construction of the Sooke waterworks system.

The city retaliated by seeking an interim injunction, which was granted, in Supreme Court Chambers by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, staying the hand of Mr. Bell from proceeding to a reopening of the accounting given in the case.

When the city sought an interim injunction in Supreme Court Chambers on Thursday, August 12, Mr. H. A. Maclean argued that the waterworks contract dispute had been finally settled in the city's last accounting over ten years ago, and challenged the right of Mr. Bell to move a hand in the matter at this time.

The Westholme Lumber Company $100,000 claim had been reversed in every court and finally dismissed by the Privy Council, he contended.

Subsequent revivals in 1920, 1924 and 1926 sprang, he contended, from remarks made by certain members of the Privy Council and not embodied in the judgment which later favored the city.

Mr. Taylor, for the neutral engineer, argued that the Privy Council had expressly left the way open for a review by an independent engineer, and contended that Mr. Bell was the engineer appointed to arbitrate in the matter. Mr. Bell, he said, had been seized of the case in earlier years and the plea of a time-lapsed cause did not affect his status or power to proceed at this date.

Twenty of these engines, the "Mikado" type, will be sent west and put into service for this year's crop movement, making a total of eighty of this class of giant "iron horse" on Western lines.

The fireman has only to open a valve on the mechanical stoker to start the coal running. The device includes a crusher which crumbles the coal to small size, and a fine steam spray distributes the coal over the grate.

In addition to these Mikados three of the twenty-four new Pacific type engines will be delivered at Winnipeg in the next fortnight. They belong to the "2,300" class and are stronger than any passenger engine now in the Canadian Pacific service.

In addition to these Mikados three of the twenty-four new Pacific type engines will be delivered at Winnipeg in the next fortnight. They belong to the "2,300" class and are stronger than any passenger engine now in the Canadian Pacific service.

The city retaliated by seeking an interim injunction, which was granted, in Supreme Court Chambers by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, staying the hand of Mr. Bell from proceeding to a reopening of the accounting given in the case.

When the city sought an interim injunction in Supreme Court Chambers on Thursday, August 12, Mr. H. A. Maclean argued that the waterworks contract dispute had been finally settled in the city's last accounting over ten years ago, and challenged the right of Mr. Bell to move a hand in the matter at this time.

The Westholme Lumber Company $100,000 claim had been reversed in every court and finally dismissed by the Privy Council, he contended.

Subsequent revivals in 1920, 1924 and 1926 sprang, he contended, from remarks made by certain members of the Privy Council and not embodied in the judgment which later favored the city.

Mr. Taylor, for the neutral engineer, argued that the Privy Council had expressly left the way open for a review by an independent engineer, and contended that Mr. Bell was the engineer appointed to arbitrate in the matter. Mr. Bell, he said, had been seized of the case in earlier years and the plea of a time-lapsed cause did not affect his status or power to proceed at this date.

CONSERVATIVE GETS ROUSING RECEPTION

HON. S. F. TOLMIE, CANDIDATE FOR VICTORIA, ADDRESSES WOMEN'S MEETING
 Mr. Dickie Explains Members' Action With Regard to Income and Income Tax Reduction

Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Conservative candidate for the city, and Mr. C. H. Dickie, the standard bearer for the same party in the Nanaimo riding, were the guests of the Women's Conservative Club yesterday afternoon at a meeting in the clubrooms, Campbell Building.

Dr. Tolmie, in his address, called attention to the fact that they were about on the last lap of the campaign. In a few days they would be going to the post and he wished to express appreciation for what the workers had done in connection with the contest.

Before he concluded his address the minister referred to some of the criticisms that had been made against him by the other side. He denied that he had been drawing down a big salary as organizer of the party. On the contrary, he had carried on the duties of that position without salary. The fact that he had an office at Ottawa in this connection had been no loss to the city of Victoria for he had through the maintenance of this office, been in a position to attend to all matters that were brought to his attention by residents of the city and district.

Forest Preservation
 Dr. Tolmie said that he favored the carrying on of the tourist trade in this city. He, however, was of the opinion that the city should look also to the industrial opportunities as well. He would also, in this connection, advise early action in the preserving of some of the splendid timber that existed on the island, which could be made a great asset. This was a matter of more than local importance. The timber was a national asset and attention should be given to this matter.

"What is the use of a cheap breakfast table if you have not the price?" asked Dr. Tolmie. The country, he said, needed a policy that would give prosperity to the people of the country. Mr. King had shown that he preferred office rather than the good of the country. He had turned to the Progressives to hold that power.

The minister was applauded when he said that he thought the country had reached a decision to run Canada for the Canadians for a while.

The producers in this country must, he said, be placed in the very best position. If this was done, there would be a period of prosperity in the country that would astonish them all.

The Conservative Party had shown a deep interest in the industrial part of the population. He instanced the work that had been done for the rule of Labor under Conservative rule, laying stress upon the fact that the party had made Senator Gideon Robertson Minister of Labor, a man who had the interests of that class at heart.

Postage Reduction
 Dr. Tolmie and Mr. Dickie both took up the Liberal charge that they had voted against the reduction in the postage rates, and insisted that the reduction in the income taxation, as usual, Mr. Dickie said, there was a half, truth told, only. This was characteristic of the Liberal policy. He said that for himself he was in favor of both the reductions referred to; but, to understand the situation, they must remember that these were sandwiched in the budget setting out the Government policy for the year with respect to matters financial. The Conservatives did not agree with this policy but had not had the opportunity of voting on the different items in it. They had voted on the whole budget which had not been approved of as a whole, although some parts of it were approved.

Dr. Tolmie, in endorsing the position taken by Mr. Dickie on this point, referred to the fact that in the Speech from the Throne, which His Excellency had read at the opening of the session, it had been set forth that a tariff commission would be appointed and there would be no sudden changes in the tariff until that commission had passed upon the items in it. The tariff board had been named and then the Government, within ten days of this, had brought down the budget with the tariff changes in it which had never been before the commission for consideration.

He, in common with other Conservatives, objected to the Government's handling of the tariff in his speech what the Government had done would be when the Government had no intention of carrying it out.

In the matter of the tariff cut on automobiles, the Government had made changes after the policy was announced which had left the manufacturers in just as good a position as they had been before. In some cases better, he added, but this had been done at the cost of the Treasury of the country and the losses would have been made up in other forms of taxation.

Tax Reductions
 It was all very well, he said, to reduce taxation, but it must not be forgotten that Canada was one of the most heavily taxed countries per capita that there was. The money would have to be realized some where. He insisted that the Government have a reduction in the sales taxes. This would, he thought, have given better relief to the general public than a reduction in the income taxes, as made.

Mr. Dickie, in his address, referred to the high esteem in which Dr. Tolmie was held at Ottawa on all sides. He appealed to the ladies to aid in the task that was being made to make Canada the prosperous country that it ought to be with all the rich resources that it possessed.

To bring in a protective policy which would add to the industrial activity in the country it might be necessary, he said, to call for the demonstration of little patriotism and request the buyers to pay a little more.

more for a few products in the early stages of an industry. This added business would amply repay this. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. R. R. Howden, the president of the club. She called upon all those present to see that the vote of the ladies was polled on election day.

The joint conveners of the meeting were Mrs. K. Webster and Mrs. John Day. The room had been very prettily decorated with seasonal flowers which added to the charm of the event.

During the proceedings, Mrs. Tolmie was presented with a pretty bouquet, the presentation being made by little Miss Gwendoline Day, a tiny tot of five summers. Mrs. Tolmie made a graceful reply, thanking the club for the kind token which they had bestowed upon her.

During the afternoon, solos were rendered by Mrs. Wright and also by Miss Wright. Both singers were endorsed.

Following the meeting cheers were given for the speakers, after which the entire company adjourned to the dining-room where refreshments were served.

Morton is trying to bring his daughter and son-in-law together, and has suggested so far as to get Parrish invited back to his wife's house as a guest. Marcie, for reasons of her own, has turned Parrish into taking her in her own home, in her yellow room.

CHAPTER LV.

Turmoil arose in Marcie's home that afternoon. "Whole thing's out of whack," Marcie said, "a suitcase and handbag beside her, in the hall, she was waiting for her father. Her mother was fluttering around the house, giving final orders to the servants. The back door banged open, and her father's voice roared.

"That machine won't go!" he shouted. "It was in perfect shape last night. This morning I can't even get the starter to work."

He mopped his perspiring brow. "I've cranked it until my back's lame, and not an explosion!"

Marcie turned toward him—the front hall ran directly from the front door to the rear. "Have you any gasoline?" she asked.

"The question did not amuse him. 'Of course, I've got gasoline, you idiot!' he rejoined.

He wiped his face again. Then, her suggestion finding lodgment in his mind, he turned and went down the rear steps. His daughter followed, opening the door, he carefully poured gasoline into the small cup atop the engine. Hopefully, he whirled the crank again. There was no result.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

The little coat above is an exact duplicate of the extremely smart coat that Big Sister might wear.

It is made of cream flannel with dark blue stripes making a cross-bar pattern. From the cape drops a short scalloped cape, lined with dark blue flannel, which also pipes the scalloped edge.

The same model would be smart in plain colored flannel, such as pale blue or pink or yellow.

Fugitive Sought in Poison Liquor Case

HENRY SOTTILE

Thirty-five-year-old Italian of New York State, alleged "master mind" in the poison alcohol case, who is being sought by police of both Canada and the United States. The Ontario Government has set a price of $1,000 upon his head. He weighs about 150 pounds; 5 feet 10 inches tall; dark eyes and hair; good dresser; well educated and speaks English, Italian and Jewish.

"That wasn't what I told him," Parrish insisted, bluntly. "I said I didn't want to sit here with you."

Marcie looked from one to the other, out of countenance for once. Parrish took his seat.

"Audrey urged him to come," Morton went on. "She said it would make Nona feel better."

Marcie at his daughter and her friend, across the room. "Audrey is always thinking of somebody's comfort."

"Besides her husband's," Marcie snapped, stung into speech.

"You keep quiet about Audrey," Parrish ordered, lowering his voice.

Morton placed a hand on the forearm of each of them. "Now children—don't quarrel," he said. "Shall I order a bit of salad and coffee, or will you have sandwiches?"

Marcie's face was set and grim. "Neither. Order some gin for me," she said.

He smiled and nodded. Whispering to the waiter, he gave part of his order inaudibly. "And two chicken salad sandwiches, and two coffees," he added, aloud.

Marcie's head was bowed toward the table, and she toyed with her water glass.

"I'll get even with you for this!" she said at last, lifting her gaze to Morton.

"My child!" he exclaimed. "You take the wrong attitude! I can't have trouble between you and John here—between you and any other member of my family."

Turning to Parrish, he explained. "John, it happens that Marcie and I have spoken—just spoken, you understand—about marriage."

Canadians to Speak at Transpacific Congress

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—The Research Council of Canada will be represented at the Triennial Transpacific Conference which opens in Tokyo next month, by Dr. Frank B. Adams, emeritus dean of the faculty of Applied Science, McGill University, and Dr. H. M. Torgy, president of the University of Alberta and president of the Research Council of Canada. They will leave for Vancouver on September 20. The congress will discuss all matters relating to the Pacific Ocean and all countries bordering on the Pacific will be represented. Four or five papers will be delivered by Canadians. There is a good possibility that the next triennial congress will be held in Canada, probably in Vancouver.

PLAN REVISION OF STEAMER SCHEDULE

During Overhaul of Patricia, Chamer Will Take Her Place on Gulf Run

Arrangements are rapidly taking shape for the Fall schedules of the Princess fleet. It was announced yesterday at the B.C. Coast Steamship Service offices that the Princess Patricia will have a thorough overhaul when she is laid up, advantage being taken of remedying any injury sustained in the recent collision at Pier 15, Vancouver harbor.

During the time the Patricia is off the Gulf run between Vancouver and Nanaimo, her place will be taken by the Chamer, and as this rearrangement will become effective when the Motor Princess is also withdrawn for the season, motorists will welcome transportation facilities for cars.

Commencing on Monday, the Motor Princess will go upon a new schedule in the Vancouver-Nanaimo service. There will be one sailing each way between the two cities and this schedule will continue until September 30. The vessel will be operated every day, the Sunday sailing being at the same time as week days.

With the withdrawal of the Chamer from the money Rich run, that route will be supplied by the Princess Royal. The Princess Mary will be brought down to prepare for the Alaskan run next month, replacing larger vessels which have been operating during the summer months and which will be withdrawn with the close of the tourist season. From October 1 the Mary will be engaged in the northern run.

Least Money Spent In Summer Months
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The public uses less money in July and August than at any other time of the year and requires most near Christmas.

A close check on the needs of the nation for currency is maintained by the Federal Reserve Board whose banks serve as the money exchange between the public and Treasury.

More than $12,000,000,000 passed through the hands of the reserve banks in 1925.

When the guest of honor was Dame Maud McCarthy, G.B.E., matron-in-chief of the British Army Territorial Nursing Service. The U-shaped table was decorated with bowls of pink asters. Robertson, of Victoria; Miss C. McNaughton, Montreal; Miss E. Clark, Miss Elizabeth King, Miss M. Tunnard, Miss L. Gregory Allen, Miss C. Rose, Miss T. Mowbray, Miss B. Bradshaw, Miss E. PAINS ALL OVER BODY

Two More Cases of Feminine Illness Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Barrington, N. S.—"I had terrible feelings, headaches, back and side aches and pains all over my body. I would have to go to bed every month and nothing would do me good. My husband and my father did my work for me as I have two children and we have quite a big place. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then got a little book about it through the mail, and my husband sent to Eaton's and got me a bottle, and then we got more from the store. I am feeling fine now and do all my work and am able to go out around here. I tell my friends it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that makes me feel so well."—Mrs. VICTOR RICHARDSON, Barrington, Nova Scotia.

Dull Pains in Back

St. Thomas, Ont.—"I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and found great relief from the dull, heavy pains in the small of my back and the weakness from which I suffered for five years after my boy was born. After taking the Vegetable Compound and using Lydia E. Pinkham's Sensitive Wash I am feeling better than I have for the past seven years, and advise my friends to take it."—Mrs. F. JOHNSON, 48 Moore Street, St. Thomas, Ont. C.

the exception of a very brief little ceremony connected with the presentation to Dame McCarthy of a bowl of Indian design made by a Victoria potter. Miss Morrison made the presentation on behalf of the overseas nursing sisters of Vancouver Island, and Dame McCarthy made a gracious little speech in acknowledging the gift.

SURPRISED TO FIND MOTORBIKES SCARCE

Agent for Old Country Film Visits City Stating Up Prospects for Establishing Market

Mr. W. Cameron, representing the Triumph Cycle Co. Ltd., of Coventry, England, was a visitor in the city yesterday. Mr. Cameron was sent out from the Old Country by his firm to size up the prospects and possibilities of the market in Canada for English motorcycles and since landing in Quebec on August 13 has visited most of the principal cities of the Dominion en route to the Coast.

He expressed himself yesterday as greatly impressed with the possibilities of building up a market and greatly surprised to find that there were so few motorcycles in use here. The motorbike in England is in great demand and is used by all classes, even by wealthy people who also own their big cars. Mr. Cameron stated that the Triumph Co. alone had an output of 50,000 in one year, which is bigger than the combined output of three big American motorcycle firms.

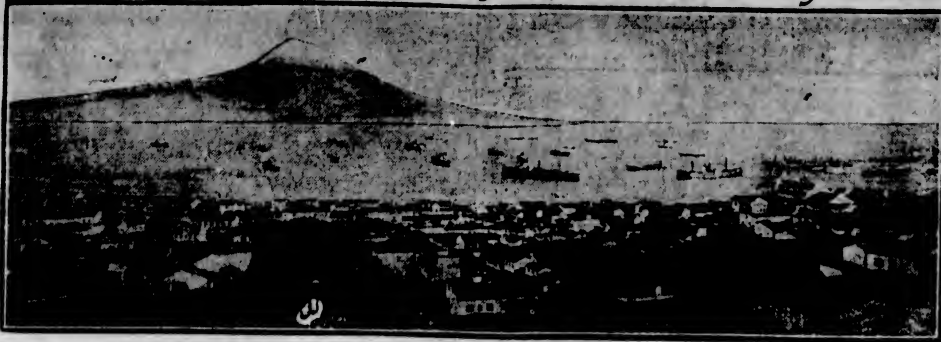

An usual with visitors, Mr. Cameron was enthusiastic over the beauties and the climate of Victoria and regretted that time would not permit his taking an extensive motorcycle trip up the Island. An agency for Triumph motorcycles will, it is understood, be established here. The firm is already directly represented in Vancouver.

Capital of Island of Fayal, Stricken by Tremor

ABOVE is a panoramic view of the town and harbor of Horta, capital of the Island of Fayal, in the Azores group, which was stricken by a disastrous earthquake, causing twelve deaths and heavy damage recently. The photograph clearly shows the volcano which towers over Horta, and which was, presumably, indirectly responsible for the shock. The Island of Fayal is thirty miles in circumference. In addition to the town, there are several outlying villages, the total population of the island being about 20,000. It is situated in a seismic zone, as are the other islands of the group, with the exception of Flores and Corvo. According to reports a seismic wave coming from the southwest struck the island on its eastern side and ran along in a northerly direction through the channel, which separates Fayal from the Island of Pico.

Empire Settlement

Sir.—In your issue of Sunday last, page 32, is a statement by the Bishop of London on "The Church of England and Empire Settlement." This surely is a lead in real statesmanship.

There is no doubt that the Bishop's utterances in Canada on the question of Empire settlement are fundamentally sound and worthy of the closest attention by our fellow citizens.

It is also most refreshing to read that the "old historical church" is taking this matter up in such a business-like and farseeing way, initiating the movement and throwing into the scale on the side of success the whole force of her mighty organism. Her long experience in statecraft eminently fits her for this great service, has she not in unity with the God-established throne, sponsored the nation in its infancy and nursed it to greatness? That this undertaking is strictly in accord with the living will of the word of God itself testifies, viz., Gen. 28, 13-22; 35, 11-14; 49, 22-26. Our kings are crowned on this very stone as a witness of heirship. These blessings were to become operative in the last days (Gen. 49, 1), and in their condition as a multitude of "Goyim," i.e., nations or Gentiles (Gen. 48, 16); in the midst of the earth margin—as fishes do increase—i.e., by sending out shoals in vast numbers, to establish the earth, to cause it inherit the desolate heritages (Isa. 49, 8). These promises were confirmed in Christ (Rom. 15, 8); they are ours today, and the sooner we get down on our knees and humbly acknowledge the fact in a great thanksgiving service and return to obedience the sooner we shall experience the fulness of blessing. It is a happy synchronism of events—a general election in which the will of the people is expressed regarding the government of the country, the coming of a prophet with a peculiar message, pertinent to our well-being, and the laying of the corner stone of a great and magnificent cathedral—a temple to the glory of God. Surely Zion is travelling to bring forth; but to resume.

Empire settlement should appeal to both sides of the House, and there should be no question but that the incoming settlers should be at least seventy-five per cent British stock. The folly of allowing the Dominions to be filled with people alien in ideas of citizenship, speech and faith should be apparent to all. It is a surrender of all that our forefathers have fought and died for in the past. Much is said of God having made of one blood all the nations of men to dwell on the face of the earth, but why not finish the verse, which reads: And hath determined the times before gradients, and the bounds of their habitation. The Apostle Paul is quoting from Deut. 32, 8, which has had a wonderful influence on the expansion of the British Empire in the United States; the nations have had to give up sovereignty before the advance of the Anglo-Saxons to bring into effect the wise purposes of God. Let us try to be worthy of the trust reposed in us.

Col. J. B. Dennis, of the C.P.R., in today's issue, page 22, lays stress on the fact that the British farm settler class is small, and an advocate going to North Europe for immigrants. This would mean a German-Polish-Slav Canadian West. Surely Col. Dennis would not desire this. It is bad enough in Saskatchewan already. Could not a people who turned their hands to every conceivable form of employment in the late Great War also turn farmer or anything else they wished to in the country else given a fair chance, and perhaps much better than the regular farm class, inasmuch as they would begin to learn from the start, whereas the Old Country farm hand would have to spend much time in unlearning before he could begin to make any real progress. If we don't value our birthright and think these problems out on a truly Imperial basis, we shall most certainly fall short of our destiny.

As a former Australian Attorney-General said a few years ago before the Canadian Club, "Let not Great Britain be less great through any craven fear of greatness," applying this, of course, to the Empire. Let us get our inspiration from the prophet Isaiah, beginning with the fortieth chapter and read on to the end of the book, with the conscious knowledge that the message is not to the Jews, but to us, as Ephraim-Israel, the inheritors of the promises made unto the fathers, and remember that a nation that can transport millions of men overseas for war purposes can also transport and care for millions of settlers for the purposes of Empire settlement and development.

Theosophical Beliefs

Sir.—R. B. D., in your paper of date, makes the mistake of identifying Theosophists in general with the Order of the Star of the East movement. Mr. Krishnamurti's followers. There are indeed many Theosophists who adhere to said order, but others do not. It is only fair to the latter to register their protest against that mistake.

The followers of Mr. Krishnamurti are satisfied with the expectation and promises of a "tomorrow He will come" divinity. Other Theosophists ask "Why rely on promises easily made?" The Kingdom of God being within you, "there is no need for any outer advent; no place for those who teach and preach 'Lo here! Lo there!'"

R. B. D. might also know that some Theosophists consider both spirit and matter eternally continuous; spiritual birth a question of growth of the soul, and material rebirth a question of necessity and opportunity of evolution. Being alternatively subjective and objective, consciousness becomes gradually continuous; when harmony and concentration enable it to reach sufficient stability to remain undisturbed even by death.

Like mind begins as a glimmer in animals so the spiritual or Christ principle in our heart begins as the mustard seed; begins when the first spiritual word is heard in one's heart (St. John 1, 1, which verse is usually misunderstood). It takes many years before the tree bears fruit, but to expect that from the outside is in the mind of some Theosophists an aberration of which the Krishnamurti movement is suffering.

Too Late

IN the bright heyday of youth, who could tell him of the storms that lay ahead? Later, when he had the full strength of manhood, who could hint to him of weakness or ill-health?

The need for Life Insurance protection always seemed dim and remote—and because of this the day of decision was deferred.

And then came the day when he tried to get Life Insurance, but the attempt merely brought a more grim realization of his need. His health was not what it had been.

Too late!

Avert this tragedy from your life! Obtain the security of Life Insurance while you may. Now, while you are strong and well, the protection of Life Insurance is obtainable, and the yearly outlay will be less than in the future. Decide today, and see a Life Insurance representative before you, also, are too late.

Davis Cup Is Retained By the United States

Winning of Doubles Match by Williams and Richards From Brugnon and Cochet Gives Americans Three Straight Wins in the Challenge Round—Trophy Is Won for Seventh Successive Time

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—For the seventh successive year and the tenth time in the history of Davis Cup competition, America has established her world's supremacy at tennis.

The defence of the historic trophy was settled today as decisively as it began when the American doubles combination of Richard N. Williams and Vincent Richards smashed its way to triumph over France's pair, Jacques Brugnon and Henri Cochet.

In a sparkling three-set tussle, decided by scores of 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

This was America's third straight victory over France, whose hopes have been blasted for the second year in a row. Coupled with triumphs of "Big Bill" Tilden over Jean Borotra and "Little Bill" Johnston over Rene Lacoste yesterday, today's decisive victory gave America the necessary points to settle the challenge round series on the courts of the Germantown Cricket Club.

CHANNEL SWIMMERS GREETED AS HEROES

George Michel Is Welcomed by Boatmen—Mrs. Corson Welcomed by Fishermen

BOLLOUGNE, France, Sept. 10.—George Michel, French swimmer, whose avocation is swimming, returned from England tonight to find himself famous after swimming the English Channel in record time. Boulougne received him tonight, with open arms, not only as a record-breaker but as the first Frenchman to swim the Channel. He also found that the 16,000 or so francs he has spent in making his ten Channel swims have failed him nine times before he succeeded—were likely to prove bread thrown on the waters. Scores of telegrams awaited him offering real money for his appearance in France, England and various continental countries.

The whole town turned out to greet him when he arrived on the steamer from Folkestone. The mayor, deputy mayor, the town council and the general public met him and he was given an ovation combining with the shrieks of the children who were and the roaring of the great crowd.

At New York, Sept. 10.—Mrs. Clemington Corson, the first mother to breast the waves of the English Channel, returned to her adopted city today with her arms around her two children, aged two and four, and received a great welcome. When the Aquilina arrived, quarantine the decorated city tug Macom with the mayor's reception committee on board, gave her an official welcome, and thousands of persons welcomed her home when the Macom reached the Battery.

Golf Rivals Meet Again In Final Round Today

Miss Mackenzie and Miss Paget to Play for Ladies' Closed Championship—Mrs. Hutchings Eliminated After Brilliant Play in Semi-Finals

WINNIPEG, Sept. 10.—Helen Paget, of the Royal Ottawa Club, and Ada Mackenzie, of the Minisauqua Club, Toronto, qualified for the final round of the Canadian ladies' closed golf championship at the St. Charles Country Club here today, when they came through with impressive victories over Mrs. Vera Hutchings, of the Jericho Club, Vancouver, and Dora Virtue, of the Whittlock Club, Montreal, respectively. Miss Paget, who is defending the title won by her a year ago at Ottawa, played magnificent golf to eliminate the Vancouver star by 2 and 1, while Miss Mackenzie wiped out an early lead acquired by Miss Virtue and came strong at the finish to win by 4 and 3.

Seldom has a finer exhibition of golf been shown in Winnipeg than in the Paget-Hutchings match, which was a thriller for the big gallery which followed it from start to finish. Both semi-finalists were at the top of their form and the game was closely fought throughout. An occasional error on the greens by Mrs. Hutchings was all that prevented her from getting revenge for her defeat last week in the open event by the same opponent. With the match deadlocked after fifteen holes and both players on the sixteenth green in two, Miss Paget got the jump by sinking a twenty-foot putt for a birdie three. A hooked approach on the seventeenth green, which finished in a trap, lost Mrs. Hutchings her last chance, for Miss Paget followed up a poor tee shot with a brassie shot which was a little fortunate to run through a trap to the green, giving her a par four and the match. The golf in this game was easily the best seen in the tournament to date, as Miss Paget scored a 79 and Mrs. Hutchings an 80.

Miss Mackenzie was hardly hitting the ball with her usual accuracy, a slight slice on many of her shots giving her considerable trouble. She was steady enough, however, to take advantage of several expensive mistakes around the greens on the part of Miss Virtue, who played exceedingly well until she took her putter in hand. The final, which will be decided over the eighteen-hole route tomorrow at 2 o'clock, is sure to produce a battle royal.

FIVE FACE LIQUOR CHARGE IN COURT

Candy Merchants Accused of Selling Chocolates Containing More Than One Per Cent of Alcohol

Four Victoria merchants appeared in the City Police Court yesterday to face a charge of selling liquor in the form of candies containing liquid of more than one per cent of alcohol by weight. Another storekeeper was charged with keeping for sale candies containing liquid of more than one per cent of alcohol by weight.

Mr. Frank Higgins appeared for four of the defendants, while the fifth defendant was represented by Mr. H. G. S. Heisterman.

City Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison intimated that an analysis of samples of chocolates secured at the five stores concerned had been made by the City Analyst. The report showed that in each case the candies contained more than one per cent of alcohol by weight, and the analyst's statement, the court was advised, said that two samples of chocolates obtained at one of the stores contained 7.27 per cent of alcohol and 1.5 per cent of alcohol respectively, and that the percentage of alcohol found in samples from another store was 4.4.

On the request of Mr. Frank Higgins, supported by Mr. Heisterman, the cases were remanded until Friday morning. The city prosecutor offered no opposition to an adjournment.

Bullock-Webster Loses Title at Del Monte

DEL MONTE, Sept. 10.—Johnny McHugh, of San Francisco, today shattered the hopes of Capt. A. Bullock-Webster, Hollywood, in the third round of the California amateur open championship, defeating the former state titleholder 5 and 4.

G. D. Hunter, Jr., of Tacoma, whose sensational uphill battles have caused him to be regarded as one of the outstanding tournament players of the Coast, ran true to form today and eliminated H. Thompson, Glendale, 2 and 1.

McHugh and Hunter will meet tomorrow.

Ex-Engineer on E. & N. Dies in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Sept. 10.—John Hughes collapsed while walking on Georgia Street West on his way to attend the funeral of Fire Captain Walter McAlpine yesterday and succumbed a short time later at the General Hospital.

Death is believed due to heart failure.

Mr. Hughes was a close friend of Captain McAlpine, who met death by drowning at English Bay last Sunday, and had resided in British Columbia for the past forty years.

Mr. Hughes served as engineer on the E. & N. Railway for fourteen years.

Election Returns Will Be Received By Conservatives

THE election returns on Tuesday evening next will be announced and exhibited as they are received over the wire in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce, which has been secured by Major A. Lyons, M. P. P., who is managing the campaign of Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture.

There will be a programme provided in addition to the display of the election results as they arrive. Provision will be made for as many as can be accommodated in the place on that evening.

TRAINING OF NURSES IS THEME OF ADDRESS

Hospital Convention in Vancouver
Hears Papers From Medical and Nursing Professions

VANCOUVER, Sept. 10.—A series of papers of interest to those in the medical and nursing professions were given before the ninth annual convention of the British Columbia Hospitals Association today.

The afternoon session, which was under the convener'ship of Miss Mabel F. Gray, R.N., University of British Columbia, was devoted entirely to subjects pertaining to nursing. Miss A. L. Rogers, R.N., superintendent of the Royal Inland Hospital, Kamloops, spoke in regard to the responsibilities of the small hospital in the establishment of schools of nursing; Miss Timmins, R.N., acting director, Social Service Department, Vancouver General Hospital, dealt with the work of that organization; and Miss K. W. Ellis, R.N., superintendent of nurses, Vancouver General Hospital, reviewed the modern trend in nursing and in nursing education.

Training of Nurses

It was pointed out that the functions of the trained nurse had extended enormously of recent years. The suggestion was made that a nurse would receive a more comprehensive training if she went to a small hospital for the first two years, and then completed her course for the third year at a large institution. Another point raised was that the large hospitals should receive women for training as nurses and send them to smaller hospitals for part of their training.

Too much stress, it was declared, could not be placed on the training of the individual who was going to undertake the care of the lives of people.

Medical Questions

Dr. H. E. Young, Provincial Health Officer, gave a short address at the opening of the morning session. Dr. H. W. Hill, director of laboratories, Vancouver General Hospital, spoke on some points in the treatment of infectious diseases in small hospitals. Dr. H. A. Murphy, Kamloops, spoke on the hospital and the medical profession; Dr. S. A. Lamb, Provincial hospital inspector, on inspection of hospitals; and Mr. J. A. Thomas, Provincial fire marshal, explained safeguards for prevention of fires that should be adopted in hospitals. The convention concludes Saturday. In the morning the election of officers for the ensuing year will take place.

LARGE CONTRIBUTIONS COME TO CATHEDRAL

Several Further Handsome Subscriptions Reported at Canvassers' Meeting Last Night

Among subscriptions reported last night as having been received during the day towards the new Christ Church Cathedral was one gift of $500 and several of smaller amounts. The day's totals were further increased by the collections at Thursday's functions, $1,400.19 being reported from the foundation stone ceremony, $469.45 at the Royal Victoria Theatre meeting, and $103.79 from the "overflow" meeting in the Memorial Hall.

Included in the total of $125,000, reported by Bishop Schieffelin, are $10,000, two of $5,000, one of $2,000, and several gifts of $1,000.

Among smaller amounts which ranked high in the esteem of the new cathedral officials was a subscription of "160 a year for four years, payable quarterly, beginning October 1," from an aged and superannuated clergyman, who has given many years of faithful service to the church. The gift was accompanied by a note which read: "I have much pleasure in enclosing a promise of subscription, and only wish I could make it more."

The campaign will be continued through next week, as far as the necessary preoccupation of many in the diocese will permit. Full reports of the first week's work will be made at a meeting of all canvassers in the city and district to be held on Thursday evening, September 15, in the Memorial Hall, when a supper will be provided for all workers in the campaign, and addresses will be given by the Bishop of Columbia and others. From September 14 the canvassers will be conducted systematically through the parishes of the diocese.

A well attended meeting of canvassers took place in the Memorial Hall last night, when the Dean of Columbia spoke to some of the workers in the cathedral parish, who will be distributed through the twenty-three districts into which that parish has been divided. Where canvassers are still in need of more canvassers, efforts will be made to secure the assistance of others before the united gathering of all campaign workers on September 18.

Business Firms Fail To Keep Cost Accounts

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—That the failure of business firms to keep proper cost accounts is one of the largest factors leading to bankruptcy, and that this could be said of nations also, was the contention of Sir Hugh Pointer, who opened the first convention of the Canadian Society of Cost Accountants here, with guests present from the Old Country and the United States.

LIBERAL CANDIDATE AND MR. IVEL SPEAK

MR. MARTIN EMPHATICALLY DENIES HE HAS "COMMANDED" SOLDIERS' VOTE

Says That Dr. Tolmie and Hon. H. H. Stevens Offer Same Excuse for Pensioners Bill Attitude

Mr. Carew Martin, Liberal candidate for Victoria city, and Mr. William Ivel, speaking before an audience last night at the Shelbourne Hall, dealt with many campaign issues, among them being the Robb budget, the Old Age Pension Bill and the returned soldiers' problem.

In discussing the Old Age Pension Bill, Mr. Martin said, "Dr. Tolmie and the Hon. H. H. Stevens say that it is a good bill, that they agree with the principle of the bill, but do not think it workable. That is a lame excuse. If they disliked it and were not in favor of it, why did they not make an amendment to the bill?"

Speaking of the reduction in postage rates, Mr. Martin declared that while Mr. Meighen ridiculed that reduction, the Liberal Government "had saved the people of Canada one cent in postage reduction, which has been more than Mr. Meighen done since he was in office." The speaker then turned his attention to income tax reduction. "You are told by the Tories," he said, "that the income tax is a sham and a humbug. Everyone knows that it is not a humbug." Regarding the reduction of the duty on motor cars, Mr. Martin said that Mr.

Meighen and his followers had bitterly opposed these reductions. Mr. Martin concluded his address by referring to certain letters which had been sent to the open forum of Victoria newspapers, which the speaker claimed insinuated that he had solicited the votes of the soldiers. He emphatically denied that he had "commanded" the soldiers' vote, saying that because he was an overseas man it was no reason that the soldiers should support him unconditionally.

Speaking on the taxation question, Mr. Ivel said that the Robb budget last year had made reduction in the automobile tax, receipt and cheque stamp taxes, sales tax, and in many others. He made special mention of the income tax, claiming that it affected the people of Canada more than any other form of tax reduction. He explained that, under the former schedule, an income of $3,000 for a married man without dependents was taxable at the rate of 140. Under the new scale, as laid down in the Robb budget, no tax was paid at all, he said.

Other speakers included Messrs. Percy Marchant and Gustav Sivertz.

Ball Team Stranded

VANCOUVER, Sept. 10.—Secretary Stan Smith, of the British Columbia Amateur Baseball Association, received a message from Stewart, manager of the Trail team, champions of the interior, that the outfit was stranded in Wenatchee, Washington, and would be unable to keep its engagement to meet Abbotsford here this evening as scheduled. The series therefore will start on Saturday afternoon with the second game billed at five o'clock.

PUSHING FORWARD CABLE CONNECTION

Land Services for New Telephone Cable to Lower Mainland to Be Inspected by President

Work is being actively prosecuted in connection with the land lines of the B.C. Telephone Company across Salt Spring Island for the additional cable to be laid to connect the Lower Mainland with Vancouver Island.

The company has been asked to preserve the native beauties, in avoiding as far as possible removing the trees on the proposed route, which is practically straight across the island north to south. Mr. G. H. Halse, the president, plans to visit Salt Spring Island personally next week, inspect the progress of the work, and consult with owners affected by the right-of-way.

The formal notice of the submarine work is posted in the last issue of The Canada Gazette, which reached here yesterday. The item says: "Notice is given of the filing of plans for the laying of a submarine telephone cable across the Gulf of Georgia from a point north of Point Grey, west of the west corner of Lot 56-C, D.L. 140, Municipality of Point Grey, to a landing at the northeast end of the Gulf Road on Galiano Island, and from the southwest end of the Gulf Road on the north side of Retreat Cove Wharf on Galiano Island, and to a landing on the northwest side of Fernwood Wharf on Salt Spring Island, and from a landing at the south end of Salt Spring Island approximately 1,600 feet west of the boundary of Section 39 to a landing at

TARIFF POLICY IS UPHELD ON PRAIRIE

Everywhere in Dominion Conservative Candidates Stand for Protection, Says Mr. Meighen

SARNIA, Sept. 10.—Two packed halls, a second overflow, and a crowd gathering in streets outside following the speech from amplifiers welcomed Premier Meighen to Sarnia tonight. At the main meeting in Sarnia, Mr. Meighen did not begin his speech till well in the evening. "I doubt if anything finer could be extended to a public man," Mr. Meighen said, referring to his reception.

Have Same Policy Everywhere
Mr. Meighen turned to the tariff. He declared that the resolution introduced in the House on June 2 of last year embodied the Conservative tariff policy.

"It is on that platform," he added, "that Dr. McMillen, Conservative candidate in West Lambton, contests this seat. It is on that platform every Conservative is contending in this country. Right out in the Western Prairies, every man fighting under the Conservative banner is fighting for a protective tariff for this Dominion."

"The policy for the country," Mr. Meighen added, "is the policy that sets most work for the country. That is the Conservative policy. That is the Canadian policy. We will revise the whole tariff, every article, in every phase of production, on the protective principle, giving to every industry the protection that is necessary and no more. It is a Canadian industry and help it grow and develop.

Even Mr. King's Friends
"If by some miracle Mr. Mackenzie King could be returned," Mr. Meighen was proceeding, "what a number of persons in the hall applauded."

"I am glad that even his friends consider it a miracle that he should be returned," Mr. Meighen retorted, and there was an outburst of laughter.

"We are not spending anything except what Mr. Mackenzie King proposed to Parliament in his own estimates," Mr. Meighen said, referring to the expenditure of his government.

"We are not spending nearly all that. Millions are being saved."

LIBERALS HOLD MEETING AT NANAIMO

Interrupter Wants to Know What is Essence of Democratic Government

NANAIMO, Sept. 10.—The last Liberal meeting in Nanaimo of the present campaign was held last evening at the home of Mr. J. McPherson, acting as chairman. The speakers were Hon. Wm. Sloan, Mr. J. W. de B. Farris and the Liberal candidate for this riding, Mr. C. H. O'Halloran. Approximately two hundred people were present, and there were but few interruptions. Once, an interested member of the audience, who declared himself as non-political in opinion, asked Mr. Farris to explain the essence of a democratic government. Mr. Farris replied that life was not a game, and that a democratic government if left in the hands of Mr. Meighen and his satellites.

Hon. Wm. Sloan devoted nearly one hour to a quotation of the coming elections, and especially to the stand taken by the Senate on the old age pensions question. He was followed by Mr. Farris, who delivered a speech which was listened to attentively. It was frequently interrupted by readings of excerpts of editorials from various Conservative papers of the Province, the principal of which was The Vancouver Daily Province, which, the speaker maintained, was inconsistent inasmuch as its contents before an election was assured and its statements since did not "jibe."

Following Mr. Farris' speech, Mr. O'Halloran arrived. He had, he said, delivered three speeches within a radius of eighty miles during the day. He asked that on September 14 the electors vote not for him, but for the Liberal party, a party which, he said, he could conscientiously say was the best party for Canada, and one which merited support. He believed this implicitly, and if elected would do his best for the interests of his constituency.
